TakeCareDownThere.org: A Sex Guide for Children

Planned Parenthood of Columbia-Willamette (WA) is one of 89 affiliates of Planned Parenthood Federation of America and a sister affiliate of Planned Parenthood Waco.

TakeCareDownThere is endorsed by the Planned Parenthood Waco website as a resource for parents and teens attending their summer sex education conference called Nobody's Fool (www.plannedparenthood.org/ppwaco/images/Central-Texas-Health-Centers/NF\_Online\_Resources.pdf).

John Pisciotta, Director of Pro-Life Waco

Planned Parenthood affiliates (franchisees) are well known as the leader in the U.S. abortion industry. A complementary mission of Planned Parenthood is promotion of promiscuity to children. I became aware of this fact through Pro-Life Waco challenges to a Waco Planned Parenthood youth conference called Nobody's Fool. While my initial concern was our local Planned Parenthood affiliate, I soon learned about the common ground with Planned Parenthood Federation of America (PPFA) and International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF). I have tried to shine the light on print publications such as the book It's Perfectly Normal (endorsed by PPFA and distributed by Waco Planned Parenthood) and Healthy, Happy and HOT (published by IPPF). I've also pointed to websites such as TeenWire.com (PPFA) and TakeCareDownThere.org from the affiliate in Columbia-Willamette, Washington. My initiatives to shine the light on TakeCareDownThere have not been particularly successful. One reason is the content is so vile that most decent people simply do not want to expose themselves to viewing and listening to the content. I hope that more will be willing to read the transcripts. We must face the sordid reality of Planned Parenthood if we are going to mobilize to defend children who are in the crosshairs of this organization. Reading these transcripts will not be enjoyable. I assure you that creating this document was not enjoyable.

TakeCareDownThere is the degrading creation of a local Planned Parenthood affiliate in the state of Washington. The website attempts to be light-hearted and is visually attractive. The main theme is that sexually active (promiscuous) teens should have themselves checked frequently for sexually transmitted infections. The provider of these SDI check-ups would be a local Planned Parenthood affiliate. The revenue-seeking slant of this website can hardly be missed.

TakeCareDownThere is a series of vignettes involving an adult and several teen actors. I give the characters names in the transcripts. The adult is Mr. Sexpert. Slovenly dressed and poorly groomed, Mr. Sexpert intrudes on the lives of the teens to give advice to help them continue their "anything goes" sexuality. The teen girls are Amy, Melissa, and Tara. There are two boys—Terence who is black and Scott who is white. Race is significant since one vignette features Terence performing oral sex on Scott.

The portrayal of sexual content is not highly graphic. We do see a girl and boy making out and drawings of how to use a condom. Otherwise, "the action" has just occurred or is off-screen. Nevertheless, Planned Parenthood's advocacy of unfettered sex comes through clearly with affirmations of vaginal intercourse, oral sex, and masturbation for fun loving teens.

The transcripts below are slightly edited to avoid unnecessary banter.

Amy	Hey, can I ask you a question?
Melissa	Yeah, yeah, what's up?
Amy	(Amy pulls her pants down to reveal her genital area.)
	Do you see anything down here?
Melissa	Oh, um, I don't see anything. Hey, hey, come here and check this out.
Tara	What's going on?
Melissa	Do you see anything down there?
Tara	Um, I don't think so
Terence	Hey, what's up y'all?
Tara	Do you see anything down there?
Terence	Uh, uh, man it's kind of hard to tell.
Mr. Sexpert	Guys, what's going on over here? Wait a second. I think I know what's going on. Look you can't always tell if you have a sexually transmitted infection. In fact, a lot of times there aren't even any symptoms. What are you going to do? Right? You're going to get a little test-eroony. Okay, you're going to get a test.
Amy	Who are you?

Vignette #2: Horse Penis Virus

Mr. Sexpert	Okay, pop quiz. Guys, who can tell me what HPV stands for?
Amy	Harry palm virus.
Mr. Sexpert	Wrong.
Terence	Horse penis virus?
Mr. Sexpert	No, no, guys. A horse is a majestic creature.
Mr. Sexpert	You.
Melissa	Horse penis virus.
Mr. Sexpert	Wrong, look guys I'll tell you what HPV stands for. (stuttering) Human Papilloma Virus. And you know what? You have it.
Melissa	Excuse me?
Mr. Sexpert	Okay, well maybe you don't have it. But close to half of all women do and a lot of them don't even know they have it. You know down the road, it can cause cervical cancer. That's the bad news.
Melissa	Whoa, whoa, you never told us the good news.
Mr. Sexpert	Oh, there's a vaccine, you should totally get it.
Mr. Sexpert	The HPV vaccine is most effective for women who are not yet sexually active. But it can be beneficial for women who are already sexually active. Regardless, certain types of HPV can cause cancer. Contact your health provider to learn more or to get the vaccine.

Terence stand up after performing oral sex on Scott.

Vignette #4: I didn't spew

	Mr. Sexpert interrupts as Terence is performing oral sex on Scott.
Mr. Sexpert	Whoa, guy, where's the prophylactic?
Scott	What do you mean?
Mr. Sexpert	Look oral sex is still sex. Okay? If it's unprotected, you gotta reject it. (Terence stands up and now appears in the video. He wipes his mouth with his hand.)
Terence	What, what?
Scott	I didn't even spew.
Mr. Sexpert	Guys, it doesn't matter. If you are having sex or you're getting some blow J's or whatever, you need to use a condom. Because you could catch a sexually transmitted infection--even if you don't spew.

Vignette #3: Bring your sister

	Telephone ringing
Melissa	Hello?
Terence	Hey, do you know what I'm thinking now.
Melissa	I think I know what you are thinking.
Terence	Alright, well, why don't you come on over?
Melissa	Okay, hey do you mind if I bring my sister.
Terence	Yeah, yeah. You can bring your sister. That would be awesome.
Melissa	Great. What time?
Terence	You can come right now if you want. Come right now.
Melissa	Okay, we'll just go ahead right over. Oh, I totally forgot. My grandparents are in town so I'd kind of have to bring them. It's okay, they're totally into this kind of thing.
Terence	Ah, what are you talking about?
Melissa	Wait, what were you talking about?
Mr. Sexpert	Guys, guys. Look, communication is the foundation of a good relationship. Don't be afraid to tell your partner what you are thinking. Make sure he understands: what you want, what you don't want, when you want it, when you don't want it, where you want it, where you don't want it, who you want it with, who you don't want it with, why you want it, why you don't want it, how you want it.

Vignette #5: Hot & Heavy

Mr. Sexpert	Amy and Scott making out. Mr. Sexpert uses a marking pen and an easel to demonstrate how to use of a condom.
	Guys, guys, it looks like it's getting a little hot and heavy in here. Now, before we take this to the next step, I want to be sure you know how to use a condom--rubber, a raincoat, a boner bucket, party hat, squirt skirt, love sock.
	I know what you are thinking. Everybody knows how to use a condom, right?
	Wrong. What you want to do is roll the condom over the erect penis, squeezing the tip so there's no air trapped inside. If you find that you can't roll it down, go ahead and toss that condom. We don't take chances with anything that is contaminated. Okay?
	Once you get it rolled all the way down, we are ready to take care of business.
	Now, immediately after ejaculation, hold the base of the condom as the penis is removed. Toss the condom. Wipe the wiener down with a hanky and your ready to go.
	Pretty easy isn't it?

Vignette #6: Let me do me

Melissa	Hey guy. You want to come to a party?
Amy	I kinda have plans.
Tara	You have a date?
Amy	Kind of.
Melissa	Who's the lucky one?
Amy	Well, me actually. I just thought I'd stay in tonight and maybe do a little strummin' the banjo.
Tara	Oh uh...
Amy	What? I like me. I like spending time with me. And you know what? Tonight, I think I'm going to go all the way with me.
Melisa	Unbelievable.
Amy	Plus, it's not like I can get me pregnant or give me diseases or something.
Melisa	That's a good point.
Mr. Sexpert	Guys, guys. Look, abstinence can be a beautiful thing. Alright? It's kind of like being a virgin all over again. You know it's not easy. So, you should give your friend here a little bit of support. How about a hug? Go, on. Girls laugh and hug each other.

Vignette #9: "Down there" song

This degrading tune featuring slang names for male and female genitals.

Beaver Bunny Front-butt Bushy catcher's mitt Easy bakin' oven Hot pocket Hoo-ha Na-na Furry pink canoe Pick a name down there and I'll sing with you. He-ham Lovelog Ankle spanker Dong Twinkie Trumpet Gherin Captain Winky Shlong Hum-diddler Finger-fiddler Whamalama-do Pick a name down there and I'll sing with you. Sergeant Stiffy Super Soaker Panty hamster Peach Tinkle flower Donut holder Chubby Backyard treat Harry Manilow Sloppy slappillow Bing-a-dang-a-doo-ding Pick a name down there and I'll sing with you. Guys, guys whatever you call it, you gotta know how to take care of it. So check out takecaredownthere.org. Well go on...

Vignette #7: Threesome

	Melissa and Scott are in bed chatting after having intercourse.
Mr. Sexpert	Guy, Guys. What is going in here? Wait a second. You two are making some intercourse. Haven't you. Okay, you are probably wondering what happens next. I think we know the answer. You get tested. If you're a woman, you should get tested once a year. If you're a guy, before you start a new relationship.

Vignette #8: Take care

This is "slide show" which includes colorful animated visual patterns, background music and the following message in text:

We were born to be in love with our bodies.
Ask any three-year-old.
But somewhere down the road to growing up, we put our reproductive selves in the dark.
Rather than worry about what went wrong, we should remember it is never too late to know ourselves.
After all, we are ultimately in charge of our bodies.
It may be the most important responsibility we have.
Starting today, let's make a pact: to make our bodies our best friend.
So that when we make decisions, we are empowered and aware.
And let's promise to pass that power on my asking everyone to join us.
And, take care down there!

Planned Parenthood's "TakeCareDownThere" in Perspective

The pathetic transcripts of TakeCareDownThere speak clearly for themselves. I comment on just a few passages.

In vignette #2, Mr. Sexpert reacts to a joking reference to a horse by countering "A horse is a majestic animal." Taken as a whole, the transcripts offer more dignity to horses than to young boys and girls. There is nothing majestic in the promiscuity-promoting advice of TakeCareDownThere.

Planned Parenthood claims that their comprehensive sex education promotes abstinence. The Planned Parenthood version of sex education is often called "Abstinence Plus." We can see in TakeCareDownThere that Planned Parenthood is all about "the Plus." In vignette #6, abstinence is called a "beautiful thing" in the context of uninhibited masturbation. Mr. Sexpert goes on to state that masturbation can make a girl feel "like a virgin again." True abstinence or chastity gets zero affirmation in TakeCareDownThere.

Much has been written about the racist history and character of Planned Parenthood. (The documentary Maafa 21 from Life Dynamics gives a powerful account of how diminishing of the black population has been pursued first through sterilization, and later through contraception and abortion). The portrayal in TakeCareDownThere of a black teen performing oral sex on a white boy fits well within the racist character of Planned Parenthood.

The slide show of vignette #8 captures the Planned Parenthood vision of youth sexual expression in a nutshell. The goal of children in making decisions is to be "empowered and aware." Sex is about having knowledge and personal power. Morality and virtue is off the radar screen.

Vignette #5 makes a statement about avoiding risk. If a condom does not roll down appropriately, just toss it out, "We don't take chances with anything that is contaminated." In the whole of TakeCareDownThere, risk avoidance never leads to any hesitation about sexual encounters. The website never questions whether engaging in particular acts—with multiple partners who also have multiple partners—are worth the risk. For TakeCareDownThere, the green light for sexual engagement is always on, provided there is risk reduction. However, even with condom use and STI testing, significant risk remains. A young boy or girl may well be damaged severely with an STI or HIV. The revenue position of Planned Parenthood, however, is always enhanced by promotion of promiscuity.

TakeCareDownThere reiterates the "get tested" message for sexually-active youngsters. However, nothing is said about what will happen if an STI is contracted. Two issues arise with a positive STI diagnosis: treatments and sexual conduct. What treatments will be provided and what are the effects of various treatments? Dealing with this topic would have conflicted with the "sex is so much fun" message of TakeCareDownThere. Another concern for a child with an STI is what alterations would be called for in sexual conduct. Regarding this question, a clear position has been presented by International Planned Parenthood Federation in their January 2010 publication, Healthy, Happy and HOT. IPPF gives the shocking counsel to HIV-positive youngsters that they need not limit their sexual behavior and that the HIV-infected person has no obligation to reveal this fact to sex partners. In the words of IPPF, "Some countries have laws which say people living with HIV must tell their sexual partner(s) about their status before having sex.... These laws violate the rights of people living with HIV.....There are many reasons that people do not share their HIV status."

Reading the scripts or seeing the vignettes of TakeCareDownThere is a shocking, demeaning and also necessary. Concern for our children and grandchildren requires that we fight back. To win the battle we must have thorough understanding of our adversaries. We must see through this corrupting content to the underlying strategies of Planned Parenthood. TakeCareDownThere reveals the following strategies for influencing children:

- Present sex in a frivolous, flippant manner.
- Diminish any sense of modesty in young girls as well as boys.
- "You can be the lucky one." Try to convince each youngster that he or she can dodge the unwelcome impacts of a promiscuous life-style by partaking in Planned Parenthood advice and services.
- Tell teens (and preteens) that sex is all about being healthy, happy, and in control. Ignore virtue and morality.
- If Planned Parenthood does get into morality, aggressive moral relativism and personal autonomy is affirmed. What is right or wrong is strictly a matter of personal choice. There are no universal, binding principles of right and wrong.
- Give children more to think about and act upon. Lead them on by presenting new options and further steps to take in their demeaning sexual journeys.
- Give the impression that "everybody's doing it."
- Promote Planned Parenthood as THE trusted source on sex!! When Mr. Sexpert is not around, teens can always get advice and "services" without their parents' knowledge but paid with their parents' taxes.
