

FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 2017

WACO TRIBUNE-HERALD

Where your right ends

Rebecca Fox, who in her March 16 letter claims she donates to Planned Parenthood every time Pro-Life Waco director John Pisciotta writes a letter to the Trib, has every right to gather as many financial supporters as she can to contribute to Planned Parenthood. At a luncheon in Fort Worth a few weeks back, Planned Parenthood raised over $400,000 in one hour through similar supporters. So if Planned Parenthood has that many financial supporters who can raise that kind of money, why does this organization need to depend on 42 percent of its funding from taxpayers?

Furthermore, PP claims that abortion only represents 3 percent of its clinical procedures. If that's true, then why not eliminate the abortion feature from PP clinics and focus on real "women's health" issues?

Even in a democratic society, limitations exist to our freedoms. Your right to take a life ends at another's right to life. Pro-Life Waco never intends to "shame, hate or intimidate" any woman in her pregnancy. On the contrary, our goal is to love those women through their pregnancy.

Bob Lehman, Meridian